

Creating a Total Image is a comprehensive workshop designed for adult cancer patients to help them navigate through appearance-related challenges during treatment.

We provide education, resources and products in monthly classes that address changes in hair, skin and nails.

This FREE resource is available thanks to the kindness & generosity of our sponsor:

Meet Maggie Varney

Maggie Varney is a licensed cosmetologist, certified hair restoration specialist and entrepreneur with a heart of giving back to the community.

She has over 30 years experience working with adult cancer patients and is a cancer survivor herself. Maggie understands the importance of the Creating a Total Image program and serves as its facilitator. She is here to help as you journey through your health challenge.

Classes Tailored Just for You

With women going through cancer there comes a day when they look in the mirror and, suddenly, they do not recognize themselves. Fortunately for all these women there is support through our Creating a Total Image workshops.

Our workshop is offered in group sessions once a month. Class participants receive instructional materials and additional handouts to take home. Refreshments will be provided.

We will guide you in restoring your self-image by offering complimentary pharmaceutical-grade skin care & makeup for all skin types and tools to assist you in achieving the look you desire. We also provide hands-on demonstrations on how to address hair loss issues and assist with wig maintenance & accessories. Nail consultations will be offered to help care for the nails and the changes that may occur in color and texture.
